Scientists now know more about the female brain than ever before, the explosion of technology and tracking of the past 20 years gives us new insight into how our world has changed, how this impacts our daily life and what we can do to optimize our learning, memory and performance in the workplace, our homes and beyond.

Presenter: Jenny Severson, Ed.D.
Senior Educational Consultant

Dr. Jenny Severson has been in the educational arena for 17 years, first, as a teacher, next, as a school principal, and now consultant. Most recently, Jenny is working more and more as a classroom coach (with Quantum Learning Network) and with women's leadership (www.TiaraCoaching.com)
